

Your weekly social studies' reflections are due (unless otherwise instructed) every Monday (class 820 every Tuesday) until November 25, 2019 and are always based on the following questions:

1. What did you learn this week?
2. What inferences/connections can you make with what you learned?
3. How did what you learn contribute to New York City's past and/or US history? Provide examples and cite sources if necessary

Please Note:

When thinking about reflections you may include a wide range of genres (for example---ads, cell-phone text form, political cartoon sketch, historical journals, blog, video, flow chart, etc . The length of the reflection depends on how well you can answer the 3 questions above.

*Please note--- there will be some occasion when you will be required to write an essay of some kind. All reflections should be done in social studies homework section.
